

WorkMate AI — Facilities Policy

Purpose: This fictional policy describes how employees report physical workplace maintenance issues.

Facilities support covers approved office infrastructure and workplace maintenance.

Employees should report issues rather than attempting unsafe repairs themselves.

Requests should contain the location and a clear description of the problem.

This document is fictional and intended for WorkMate AI RAG testing.

WorkMate AI — Air Conditioning and Lighting

Air-conditioning problems should be reported through the facilities maintenance request process.

A request should identify the room or area and describe the observed issue.

Non-working lights should also be reported with the location and, where possible, the affected fixture.

Employees should not open electrical equipment or attempt repairs without authorization.

Facilities staff may schedule inspection or repair based on priority.

WorkMate AI — Office Equipment and Maintenance

Physical maintenance issues involving desks, doors, fixtures, plumbing, or common areas should be reported to Facilities.

Employees should provide enough information for the maintenance team to locate the issue.

If an issue creates an immediate safety concern, employees should follow the site's emergency procedure and notify the appropriate personnel.

Employees should not move or modify fixed equipment without authorization.

Maintenance requests should be tracked using the assigned ticket reference when available.

WorkMate AI — Maintenance Requests

A maintenance request should include employee information when required, location, issue description, and relevant timing.

Facilities may ask follow-up questions before assigning a technician.

The ticket status can be checked using the approved maintenance-support process.

Employees should avoid creating duplicate tickets for the same issue unless instructed.

Completed work should be verified where practical and any continuing issue should be reported.

WorkMate AI — Support and Escalation

Facilities handles ordinary workplace maintenance questions.

IT handles technical systems and company-device issues.

Security or management should be contacted for physical-security concerns according to the applicable process.

Unsafe conditions should be reported promptly.
